

TIMOTHY OULTON

RYELAND CHAIR

Armchairs

A mid-century modern armchair with petite proportions and simple weathered oak legs. Upholstered in luxurious curly sheepskin from Australia, renowned for its extraordinary softness and sink-in comfort. The name Ryeland references one of England's oldest sheep breeds, bred seven centuries ago by the monks of Leominster in Herefordshire who grazed them on the rye pastures.

Our curly Shearling Smoke sheepskin is the first natural boucle in the Timothy Oulton collection. Soft and airy, bouncy to the touch, and characterised by cosy, soft loops of wool. Colour variations in the dyeing process add to its character.
